MEET OUR STUDENTS

"I have chosen ELTE because of the outstanding educational programs. After speaking with students and professors from several universities, I was confident of my decision that ELTE is the best choice for me. With many excellent teachers and professors it was no doubt that the Faculty of Education and Psychology would provide me the necessary theoretical and practical skills needed to excel in the professional world."

Tina Os (Psychology BA, Norway)

"The atmosphere at the university is great and I have really learned a lot from professors and classmates. The infrastructure is great with beautiful buildings, up-to-date equipments and facilities for studies, and computers in the labs have all the software packages we need."

Mohammad Asif Karim (Computer Science MSc, India)

"The marvelous scenery outside our campus brightens up my mood and makes my studies here a pleasant experience. What is more, the most delightful thing every day is to read in our magnificent central library. Studying at ELTE is both enjoyable and fruitful."

Cui Hao (Mathematics MSc, China)

"ELTE is more than a university or an institution for me since it helped me to find my way when I came to Budapest due to my marriage. After leaving everything related to my life in Turkey, I acknowledged Budapest as my second home."

Reyhan Yildiz (Doctoral School of Linguistics, Turkey)

ENGLISH FOUNDATION COURSE

Faculty of Humanities

Department of International Affairs

Title: English Foundation Course (General English)

Degree: Declaration of Completion (non-degree program)

Type: Preparatory program

Work schedule: Full-time program

Level: Pre-university program

Duration: 2 semesters

Language: English

ECTS credits: 23

The English Foundation Course is designed for students who wish to study at ELTE or another European university, but do not yet have the necessary level of language competence and study skills to start a bachelor's program. With a minimum of 800 contact hours guaranteed, the course can bring you up to speed in as little as two semesters.

The aim of the program is to provide a gateway for students to European education, by equipping them with the basic linguistic, cultural and study skills necessary for beginning BA level studies at a European university.

Goals

Students of the program should be able to pass the CEFR B2-level language examination offered by the university at the end of the academic year. If they pass, they will be admitted to the English and American Studies BA program at ELTE or might be admitted into another institution of higher education of their choice in Hungary or the European Union.

Students should achieve the following scores on an internationally acknowledged (external) language exam:

- TOEFL PBT (Paper-based test): 453 – 497
- TOEFL iBT (Internet-based test): 46 – 59
- IELTS: 5.5

Title: Hungarian

Degree: Expert in Hungarian

Type: Degree program

Work schedule: Full-time program

Level: Bachelor's

Duration: 6 semesters

Language: English

ECTS credits: 180

The program is meant for students who are intensely interested in Hungarian language and Hungarian literature. As the objective of the studies is to gain specialized knowledge in Hungarian, an B2 level competence in the Hungarian language is required to take up studies. In the first semester of the three-year program, students may accomplish the minor studies of Hungarian as a foreign language. In the course of these studies students may develop their competences in the Hungarian language up to B2 level, understand the basic concepts of Hungarian and European culture, and thus in the following two years they should be able to acquire knowledge about the most important areas and results of Hungarian literary criticism and Hungarian linguistics without any difficulties.

Program Leader

Dr. Edit ZSADÁNYI, Associate professor, Institute of Hungarian Literature and Culture Studies

Career opportunities

A professional understanding not only of the Hungarian language but of Hungarian literature and culture, and several of the cultural factors that define Europe on an international level, will position graduated students to become actors in this quickly developing economic and cultural field.

COMPUTER SCIENCE

Faculty of Informatics

Degree: Computer Scientist

Type: Degree program

Work schedule: Full time program

Level: Bachelor level

Duration: 6 semesters

Language: English

ECTS credits: 180

The objective is to train Computer Scientists with professional knowledge based on a solid theoretical background. They have the skills to take part in software development, in developing information systems, and system management in various areas. Computer Scientists often act as mediators between the customers of information systems and the producers. In this way, the job of a Computer Scientist synthesises the constructive activity of engineers with the general problem-solving attitude of mathematicians while participating in teams of large-scale projects.

The program provides students with a broad education in Computer Science and Software Engineering in combination with specialised work in computer and information processing techniques, programming languages, data structures, information retrieval, operating systems, and compiler design. Students learn the theory as well as the methodologies and techniques used in the development and implementation of computer systems. Most of the practical programming courses are aided by several courses in pure and applied mathematics and theoretical computer science courses throughout the curriculum.

Program Leader

Prof. Dr. Ferenc WEISZ, University Professor

Career opportunities

Jobs are offered by large international computer companies, outstanding Hungarian firms, banks, large enterprises, state institutions, software development companies, research institutes and universities where graduates may be engaged in the preparation of integrated data processing systems, electronic trade transactions and electronic money transfers, solving telecommunication problems (networks, programming mobile phones), performing image recognition, computer-aided design, image processing or preparing multimedia applications.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Faculty of Informatics

Savaria Institute of Technology

Savaria University Center

City: Szombathely

Degree: Mechanical Engineer

Type: Degree program

Work schedule: Full-time program

Level: Bachelor's

Duration: 7 semesters

Language: English

ECTS credits: 210

The aim of the program is to train mechanical engineers with professional knowledge based on a solid theory and an industrial background. They have the skills to take part in designing simple machines or machine elements, use Computer Aided Engineering (CAE) tools, and operate and develop complete production chains in various engineering fields. Mechanical Engineers must have a general problem-solving attitude while they also need to be able to participate in teams working on large-scale projects.

The program provides students with a broad education in Mechanical Engineering, specialized in Production Technologies. The program involves strong fundamental subjects such as Applied Solid- and Fluid Mechanics together with cutting-edge computational tools such as Computer Aided Design (CAD) Computer Aided Engineering (CAE), Finite Element Methods (FEA) or Multibody Dynamics (MD). Students learn the theory as well as the methodologies and techniques applied in the development and implementation of engineering systems and structures. Practical courses are aided by state-of-the-art laboratories.

Program Leader

Dr. Gusztav FEKETE, Associate Professor

Career opportunities

Jobs are offered by large international companies, outstanding Hungarian firms, enterprises, state institutions, vehicle producing companies, research institutes and universities where graduates may be engaged in the preparation of computer-aided design, structural analysis, quality management issues, production efficiency enhancement or management tasks.

The program offers students the opportunity to develop specialized knowledge in international politics, security studies, EU politics, ethnic conflict, global justice, and human rights. It enables them to understand and analyze complex political and social dynamics that go beyond state borders and cultural boundaries. Following introductory courses in the first year, students have the opportunity to choose from a wide range of elective seminars. The knowledge acquired during the undergraduate courses lays the foundation for the MA in International Relations and other postgraduate qualifications. Applicants will ideally be interested in social sciences and in the links between different countries, people and institutions and will be keen to use their language skills. We encourage our students to work independently and to solve tasks in teams. We rely on modern methodologies – including simulations – and we believe that adaptability and self-reflexivity are crucial in today's fast changing world. Our aim is to give our students skills that they can readily use wherever they seek employment after graduation.

SOCIOLOGY

Faculty of Social Sciences

Institute of Sociology

Department of Comparative Historical Sociology, Department of Sociology,

Department of Social Theory

Degree: Sociologist

Type: Degree program

Work schedule: Full time program

Level: Bachelor's

Accreditation number: MAB 2004/6/VI/2

Duration: 6 semesters

Language: English

ECTS credits: 180

Sociology offers deeper insights into phenomena such as prejudice and exclusion, deviance and sample tracking, social conflicts, family, gender, generation relationships, religious beliefs and changes in cultural habits, and the impact of traditional and new media on the audience.

Our basic training is diverse and practice-oriented. The central component is the research carried out in the second year, during which students acquire the most important quantitative and qualitative methods of sociology in a specific research project.

Besides traditional lectures and seminars, the program is based on project-based teaching methods, and includes one semester of intensive project work.
