Academic system AT ELTE

ELTE is internationally recognized, and its programs are accredited by the Hungarian Accreditation Board. The diplomas issued by Eötvös Loránd University are acknowledged worldwide, and its course credits are transferable in all countries in the European Union.

Eötvös Loránd University, and the Hungarian higher education in general takes part in the Bologna Process. Accordingly, the consecutive training cycles of the higher education leading to a higher education degree are alapképzés (Bachelor program), mesterképzés (Master program) and doktori képzés (Doctorate). Bachelor and Master courses are taught in consecutive cycles, in the form of divided training, or in cases specified by law in the form of undivided, one-tier training.

Organization of Studies

Students studying in Bachelor and Master courses complete their studies by passing a final examination. The final examination may consist of the defence of the degree thesis, and additional oral, written or practical examinations.

Integrated “Long” (One-tier) Programs

An undivided one-tier programme resulting in mesterfokozat (Master degree) is a training with the length of 10-12 semesters, requiring the completion of 300-360 credits. Besides religious education and some programmes of arts, the following programmes are conducted within one-tier Master courses: veterinary medicine, architecture, dentistry, pharmaceutics, law and medicine.

First/Second Degree Programs (Two-tier)

The first higher education degree is the alapfokozat (Bachelor degree) along with a professional qualification. A Bachelor programs requires gaining 180-240 credits. The length of the programme is 6-8 semesters.

The second higher education degree is the mesterfokozat (Master degree) along with a professional qualification. Built on a Bachelor programs Master programs require gaining 60-120 credits. The length of the programme is 2-4 semesters.

Doctoral Program

Built on a Master program and a Master degree, the doktori képzés (Doctorate program) requires gaining at least 240 credits. From September 2016, the length of the program is 8 semesters (4 years). Following a Doctorate program, in a separate degree awarding procedure, the scientific degree "Doctor of Philosophy" (abbreviation: PhD), or in art education "Doctor of Liberal Arts" (abbreviation: DLA) may be awarded.

ECTS credit system AND GRADING

The Hungarian academic credit system following the Hungarian law is an ECTS-compatible system. The calculation of the credits is based on the number of working hours of the students (one credit is 30 student working hours, on average).

At the end of the semester, the assessment of knowledge is generally carried out according to a five-grade scale: excellent (5), good (4), satisfactory (3), pass (2), and fail (1) or a three-grade scale: excellent (5), satisfactory (3), fail (1). The students' study achievement is evaluated with a grade (1-fail, 2-sufficient or pass, 3-medium or satisfactory, 4-good, 5-excellent).

The ECTS conversion table ensures transfer procedures between the Hungarian academic credit system and the ECTS. The recognition of courses completed abroad is based on the credit transfer regulation. For incoming international students, a Transcript of Records is issued at the end of the semester, which contains the code and title of the completed courses, credits, grade, and its ECTS-compatible grade.

System of assessment: ECTS conversion table

ELTE grade	Equivalent ECTS grade
5 (excellent)	A, B excellent, very good
4 (good)	C good
3 (satisfactory)	D satisfactory
2 (pass)	E sufficient
1 (fail)	FX, F fail

- 1 full academic year = 60 credits
- 1 semester = 30 credits

International STUDENTS AT ELTE

Each semester about 2500 international students from over 80 different countries study at ELTE.

"Full degree" Bachelor, Master or PhD students undertake their entire studies at ELTE. In addition to self-funding students, Hungarian governmental scholarship holders (Stipendium Hungaricum or the Scholarship Programme for Young Christian People) are also obtaining their diploma at ELTE.

Further incoming mobility students study at ELTE for one or two semesters within the framework of institutional bilateral agreements, via the membership of ELTE in university networks, or further (mainly governmental) scholarship programs (e.g., CEEPUS, Hungarian State Scholarships, Visegrad Fund and etc.).

Health INSURANCE

www.elte.hu/en/health-insurance

When you arrive in Hungary, make sure that you have a health insurance with you that you can use for health care services during your stay in Hungary.

If you are an EEA (EU member states, Norway, Lichtenstein, Iceland and Switzerland) student, it is advisable to apply for a European Health Insurance Card from your health insurance provider in your home country before you leave from home.

If you are a non-EEA student, you should take care about your health insurance on your own in your home country before you start your travel. After your arrival, you have the possibility to arrange a health insurance at ELTE for the semesters you spend at ELTE.

If you are a student with a scholarship offered by the Minister of Education in Hungary, you are eligible for health care services in Hungary and you will receive a "TAJ card". With the „TAJ" health insurance ID, you are eligible to use the health services in Hungary.

European Health Insurance Card – EHIC

Citizens from the EEA and Switzerland can access all healthcare services if they own a European Health Insurance Card. It can be issued free of charge in your home country.

The card does not cover issues that can be delayed until you return to your nation (e.g. some types of dental care), it only covers healthcare which is normally covered by a statutory healthcare system in Hungary. The main goal behind the card is that you don't have to suspend your staying here, you can get the care that Hungarians would.

The expiry date can vary from country to country, so it is advisable to ask about it when you obtain the card at your local health authority.

When using the card, don't forget to bring your passport or ID card with yourself. If unfortunately you need to go to a hospital, treatment is normally provided through a referral from a GP. In urgent cases, no referral is necessary.

If you have forgotten or lost your card, you can ask your local authority to fax or e-mail you a Provisional Replacement Certificate. This will give you the same entitlement as the card does. You will need to forward it via fax in the following 15 days otherwise the healthcare provider will charge you a fee for the treatment and will issue you an invoice. You can still apply for a reimbursement though in your own country.

Public Health Insurance Card (TAJ card)

Students with a Hungarian Governmental Scholarship (e.g.; Stipendium Hungaricum, Scholarship Programme for Christian Young People) are entitled to enjoy health care services and they are entitled to have a social security card ("TAJ card").

With the "TAJ card" (the card for Hungary's national health insurance scheme), scholarship holders are publicly ensured and they are able to access public healthcare for free, not just emergency or urgent care.

Scholarship holders can request the public health insurance card (TAJ card) online on the official homepage of Quaesitura Office at ELTE.

Private health insurance

ELTE offers a private health insurance for those who want to extend the services of their health insurance within the territory of the Republic of Hungary. You can purchase this fee-for-service health insurance in person at the Quaesitura Office of Student Services. The fee-for-service health insurance covers costs of medical and health care services, within the framework of an insurance policy. After the written agreement by and between you and the insurance company (i.e., after completing and signing the insured's statement), you will receive a health insurance card which is designed to be proof of the insurance coverage at the health care service provider.

NOTE! The health insurance card is valid only together with your passport.
Please always keep with you your Health Insurance Card and passport.

Libraries

University Library and Archives

The University Library was founded in 1561 by the Jesuit order; it is one of the oldest library in the country, which was opened to the public in 1876. Since 1949 the Library has been collecting documents in the history of religion, theology, philosophy and the history of the Middle Ages and the Modern Age. The historical collection - including 185 codices, 1150 incunabula and 2600 old Hungarian printed books published before 1711, 7000 volumes from the 16th century, and the oldest manuscript, an 8th century Beda fragment - is part of the Hungarian cultural heritage.

The holding of the University Library and Archives contains 1.6 million titles including over 250 000 journals. The ELTE University Library Service has 4 million titles which include subscriptions, to over 200 online journal titles, 44 online databases and operates an institutional repository called ELTE Digital Institutional Repository (EDIT). The integrated library database contains 1 356 481 item records, 864 670 bibliographic records and 838 379 authority records.

The registration in the University Library is free for every student of ELTE, and the student card can be used as library card.

Besides the traditional library services, the Library provides access to e-books, e-journals and databases and if licences allow, they are made available for the students of ELTE also from home.

Courses in database management, literature searching, publishing, and library use are organised regularly with the aim of fostering the independent use of library services and information resources, and basic research activities. The Library supports Open Access publishing by aiding submission of articles to open access journals and enhancing self archiving. Besides the traditional library services, the Library provides access to e-text archives, online copies of printed documents and electronic-only materials. The Library is one of the members of the "Hungarian Online Librarian", an online reference service of librarians. The portal of the University Library Service (ULS) (konyvtar.elte.hu/en), based on the cooperation of the network of libraries, offers full-scale information on about 50 libraries of ELTE.

The OPAC (opac.elte.hu) contains records of almost 1.5 million copies of documents such as books, journals, special and electronic documents, and dissertations of the University Library and other libraries belonging to the ELTE network.

Other libraries in Budapest:

It is worth to take the opportunity and visit some imposing libraries across Budapest:

National Széchenyi Library – www.oszk.hu

It's located in the rear wing of the Royal Palace, facing toward Buda. It's a national library, the biggest collection including some surviving books of King Mathias, the legendary king of the renaissance (their name is "Corvina", as the ensign of the king was the raven (called corvus in Latin)).

Library of the Parliament – www.ogyk.hu

The house of the Hungarian Parliament established the library at the end of the 1860's. In 1902 the library moved to the newly built Parliament on the bank of Danube. It only became a public collection in 1952; until that time, access was permitted for institutions and professionals.

Library and Information Centre of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences –

https://konyvtar.mta.hu/index_en.php

It's a special national research library. Since its foundation in 1826, it has dedicated itself to supporting scientific and scholarly research and safeguarding its precious collections.

Metropolitan Ervin Szabó Library – www.fszek.hu

It's located in a magnificent neo-Baroque palace completed in 1889, as well as in a new wing – presently one of the most interesting library interiors of Europe. The café is found in the former stables.

National Library of Foreign Language – www.oik.hu

Originally built for Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA), a Russian language library was opened in 1956 under the name of "Gorky Library", which later started to collect other foreign language pieces as well. Many people in Budapest call it "Gorky" even today. It has got a very pleasant atmosphere with a rich selection of journals.

Central European University Library <https://library.ceu.edu/>

Founded by George Soros in June 1992, the CEU Library is located in the heart of downtown Budapest and holds the largest collection of English-language materials in the social sciences and humanities in Central and Eastern Europe.

The holdings of the Library reflect the extensive and specialized curriculum and research conducted at CEU, initially focusing on subjects that helped develop and sustain open societies in Central and Eastern Europe. These subjects include comparative constitutional and business law, history, environmental issues, democracy, political and cultural pluralism, tolerance, questions of nationalism and ethnicity, and gender studies.

With a broad focus on democratic values, human rights, and open societies worldwide, the collections also support global studies and the increasingly diverse student body and faculty members from over 100 countries.

Library Days at ELTE

The event Library Days is held in Trefort Garden at the Faculty of Humanities at the beginning of each academic year. Library Days are organized in each autumn, and most of the libraries in Budapest take part in it and introduce their services. This event will help you find the most appropriate library for your studies, and you will have a chance to register for the services on the spot.

Students' Union System OF ELTE

ELTE HÖK (University Students' Union)

Not only our University but also the Student's Union has a long tradition. The Union's main duty is to represent Hungarian and the international students at ELTE in different issues, such as study, allowance and remedy issues. As an international student, the student organization ESN ELTE (Erasmus Student Network) and HÖOK SHMS (Stipendium Hungaricum Mentor Network) will help you to get familiar with the Hungarian language and culture, the faculties, and the student life at ELTE. In principal questions concerning your studies or credits, you can turn to Students' Union for help who will give you a helping hand in every situation.

The Students' Union has a two-tier structure: first, the students directly elect the representatives from themselves, then the faculties delegate members from the representatives to the University Students' Union (ELTE EHÖK). The ELTE EHÖK coordinates the work of the Faculty Students' Unions, represents students in the university government and in the National Students' Union (HÖOK) and organizes the student community life. The Students' Union is an autonomous organization, which elects the representatives in a democratic way and all in all the heart of the students fellowship.

The motto: Represents interests, represents values!

Culture

EÖTVÖS ART ENSEMBLE

The Eötvös Art Ensemble consists of three cultural groups:

- Béla Bartók University Choir
- University Chamber Orchestra
- Folk Dance Ensemble

The groups consist of non-professional singers, musicians and dancers, primarily current and former students and lecturers of the University.

The choir was founded in 1948, the orchestra in 1957. The repertoire of the ensemble comprises works by baroque, classical and romantic masters, as well as contemporary composers. The orchestra regularly plays symphonies and concertos, whereas the choir performs a capella pieces. However, the choir and the orchestra often perform oratorios together. They also have experience in crossing the borders between classical and popular music.

The Folk Dance Ensemble was established in 1957 and today is led by Gábor Valach. The repertoire of the Folk Dance Ensemble includes a wide range of folk dances of the ethnic groups living in the Carpathian Basin. The Ensemble is a prestigious of the amateur folk dance movement, and was qualified Gold Grade at the last nationwide qualification. There are two groups, the beginner-intermediate group and the advanced group.

Hungarian CUISINE

Hungarian food is often regarded as one of the spiciest of Europe.

Our cuisine frequently utilises a wide range of spices to enhance the taste and culinary experience of traditional Hungarian food.

The most popular spices are paprika, black pepper and onions. Potatoes are commonly used in many dishes, also Hungarians are infamous of their tastes in using sour cream and other dairy products in their soups, desserts, stuffed pancakes and pottage dishes. The most popular side food of the Hungarian kitchen is white bread.

A few basic dishes to taste the country:

Fish Soup – is made of fish and paprika, served best in Szeged city

Goulash Soup – is a soup of meat and vegetables, seasoned with paprika and other spices.

Stew “Pörkölt” – is a delicious, juicy meat stew, prepared of beef/pork, chopped onion, paprika, other spices, you can eat it either with boiled potato or noodles

Stuffed cabbage - cabbage leaves stuffed with rice and ground pork with a tangy and spicy tomato

Somlói dumpling – whipped cream and chocolate with a characteristically creamy character
Combo-Cuisine for advanced culinary explorers, who seek to experience the Hungarian lifestyle:

Lángos + Beer

Lángos is a deep fried dough. The name comes from láng, the Hungarian word for flame, but actually this is not a spicy food. Best to have at the beach of Lake Balaton with a pint of beer.

Fried Sausage + Fröccs (spritzer)

A classic of hot sausage downed with a mix of good Hungarian wine and soda-water is the best during discovering various Markets of Budapest. Did you know that you can have different type of “Fröccs” in Hungary?

Bread and dripping + Pálinka

A combination of extremes in their category, which is appreciated by everyone in the country-side. Pálinka is a very typical shot of Hungarians. Best to try a homemade version.

Pancake + Lemonade

A refreshing dessert for those, who want to escape the hot summer days or just want to enjoy themselves.

Climate and weather

Hungary has a typical continental climate with hot, dry summers and mildly cold snowy winters. There are four seasons in Hungary: winter (December, January, February), spring (March, April, May), summer (June, July, August), and autumn (September, October, November).

The average annual temperature is 9.7 °C (49.5 °F). The average high temperature in the summer is 23 to 28 °C (73 to 82 °F) and temperature can climb up above 35 °C on the hottest days in July-August. The average low temperature in the winter is -7 to -3 °C (19 to 27 °F) and temperature might drop below 10 °C on the coldest days.

Generally, the weather is warmest from May to September.

Geography

Hungary is situated in the Carpathian Basin. The major and one of the longest river is the Danube dividing the country almost in half. It is worth to visit the banks of the river Tisza and Drava. Its two longest rivers called Danube and Tisza divide Hungary into three parts. Hungary's highest point is Mountain Kékes (1015m) located in the Mátra Hills. Two-thirds of Hungary's geographic area is less than 200 metres above sea level. The lowest point with 77m above sea level lies near Szeged.

Lake Balaton is the largest lake in Central Europe, sometimes referred to as the ‘Hungarian Sea’. It is 78 km long and from 3 to 14 km wide. One of the biggest tourist attractions of the country, most of the Hungarians spend the summer holiday in one of the towns by the lake.

Did you KNOW?

Beware! Vampires ahead!

Although Vlad the Impaler (1431-1476), more commonly known as Dracula, was born in the Kingdom of Hungary, he was in fact of Romanian origin. He was also imprisoned in the castles of Visegrád and Buda. Well, not for sucking blood, but for high treason. Interestingly, Hungarian actor Béla Lugosi became the most famous Dracula on the silver screen in the rest half of the 20th century, whose character is known for his terribly thick Hungarian accent and his line "I will suck your blood!"

Hungarian language

The official language of Hungary is Hungarian, and it is one of the official languages of the European Union. Hungarians call their language "Magyar". It is a member of the Finno-Ugric language family and it is not related to any other surrounding countries.

It might seem strange, but Hungarians tend to attach importance to the uniqueness of their language, and they are even proud of it. Hungarian can be considered a weirdo among European languages, primarily due to the fact that it does not belong to the Indo-European language family, to which most other European languages do. Oh, and as for the title: Hungarian is an agglutinative language, i.e. endings are attached to words in a prescribed order – in layman's terms, we love long word monsters. Otherwise, Hungarian is rather politically correct. In fact, it does not know grammatical gender – there's no difference between his ball and her ball. It is a less known fact, but Hungarian also loaned some words to the English language: coach (kocsi), hussar (huszár), itsy-bitsy (ici-pici), sabre (szablya).

Some inventions

If you ask a Hungarian to tell you some Hungarian inventions, they will give you a list that includes basically everything that is of any importance in the world, including computers and helicopters. Well, there's always some truth to these, but they tend to exaggerate. Here are some actual Hungarian inventions and discoveries though: ballpoint pen (László Bíró), Rubik's Cube (Ernő Rubik), holography (Dénes Gábor), noiseless match (János Irinyi), the concept of nuclear chain reaction (Leó Szilárd), the theory of the hydrogen bomb (Ede Teller), electric motor (Ányos Jedlik), cure for puerperal fever (Ignác Semmelweis).

Hungary and the Olympic Games

Strangely enough for a small country like Hungary, Hungarians are ranked as the 8th in the All-Time Olympic Games medal table. We are very proud that six ELTE students participated as Olympians in Rio 2016. One of them, Boglárka Kapás swimmer, won a bronze medal on the Women's 800m Freestyle. Áron Szilágyi, ELTE student became only the fifth fencer in the history of modern Olympic Games to win back-to-back individual gold medals since 1896. Csaba Burján student of ELTE Faculty of Science also became an Olympic champion when he won a gold medal of Speed Skate in 2018 Winter Olympics.

Hungarian names

In Hungary, similarly to China, Japan and Korea, the so-called Eastern name order (family name followed by given name) is used. Interestingly, while Japanese and Hungarian names are usually "switched" when individuals having such names are mentioned in Western countries (cf. Puskás Ferenc > Ferenc Puskás), Chinese and Korean names, as well as names of historical Japanese figures are usually left in the Eastern order (e.g. Mao Zedong).

Hungarians also celebrate name days. Each given name is assigned to one or more days of the calendar. People usually give some smaller symbolic gift, like flowers or dessert to each other on this occasion.

DA DA DA! Da da da da da dadada dadada da da da da da dada!

Should you have not recognised the quoted "lyrics" in the title, we'll help you: it is the fanfare of the major American film studio 20th Century Fox. It was founded by William Fox (born as Vilmos Fried in Tolcsva, Hungary), a Hungarian Jew. Mr Fried, whose name means "love" in Yiddish, was deeply involved with helping poor Jews and others in America, as he never forgot that he had been helped by others in his time of need. Interesting that Adolph Zukor, founder of Paramount Pictures and Michael Curtiz, Hungarian film director are other two founders of Hollywood film making. Further Hungarian-born figures at the birth of Hollywood are Béla Lugosi actor and George Cukor film director. Recently, it seems Hungarian films have good series in the film award season. In 2016 László Nemes Jeles with his debut feature film, "Son of Saul" ("Saul fia" in Hungarian) won the Academy Award for Best Foreign Language Film. In the next year, Kristóf Deák's film "Sing" ("Mindenni" in Hungarian) won the 2017 Academy Award for "Best Live Action Short Film".

The Renaissance of Hungarian Wine-making

If you're from a country that has no wine-making traditions, you'll be surely surprised that you can purchase good quality bottled wines from a mere 1500 HUF. Hungary's probably most internationally known wine is the white dessert wine Tokaji, but there are many more wine regions in the country, such as Badacsony, Eger, Szekszárd, and Villány.

Fröccs (spritzer), a mixture of wine and soda water, has recently become popular again. It is a true Hungarian specialty. Based on the portion of the wine and soda water there are various types of fröccs. The name of the fröccs reflects the portion of wine.

Here are some examples:

Kisfröccs: 1 dl wine + 1 dl soda water

Nagyfröccs: 2 dl wine + 1 dl soda water

Hosszúlépés: 1 dl wine + 2 dl soda water

Házmester: 3 dl wine + 2 dl soda water

Viceházmester: 2 dl wine + 3 dl soda water

Living in Budapest

Famous sights IN BUDAPEST

Buda Castle Hill

The Castle Hill, which includes the Royal Palace, the Fishermen's Bastion and Matthias Church, is easily visible from everywhere in Budapest. Exploring beautiful buildings and cobblestone streets in the Castle District can take an entire day, but it is time well spent. The Royal Palace, rebuilt in neoclassical style after the Allied bombings during World War II to evoke the baroque and neo-baroque palace that was built in the place of the once-famous Medieval palace, is home to the Hungarian National Gallery, the Budapest History Museum and the National Library. Fishermen's Bastion is one of the most fascinating sights on Castle Hill. Although fishermen from Watertown (Víziváros) reputedly defended this part of the city during the Middle Ages, Fishermen's Bastion was built in the 1890s for purely decorative purposes.

Chain Bridge

The Chain Bridge was the first bridge to permanently connect Buda and Pest. At the time of its completion, Chain Bridge was considered to be one of the wonders of the world. Crossing the bridge is just a short walk, and no matter which direction you go, the view is beautiful.

Opera House

The Opera House is not only one of the most significant art relics of Budapest, but also the symbol of the Hungarian operatic tradition. Designed by Miklós Ybl, a major figure of 19th century Hungarian architecture, the construction lived up to the highest expectations. Ornamentation included paintings and sculptures by leading figures of Hungarian art of the time: Károly Lotz, Bertalan Székely, Mór Than and Alajos Stróbl. Many important artists were guests here including Gustav Mahler, the composer who directed the institution from 1887 to 1891 and who founded the international prestige of the institution.

Heroes' Square

Heroes' Square is the largest and most impressive square of the city. The Millennium Monument standing in the middle of the square was erected in 1896 to commemorate the 1000th anniversary of the Magyars' arrival to the Carpathian Basin. The Museum of Fine Arts is located on the northern side of the square. The Kunsthalle (Hall of Art), an exhibition hall for contemporary art, is on the southern side. The City Park, which is just behind the square, provides a great escape from the bustle of the city. The 1896 Millennium Celebrations took place here, leaving many attractions behind. Vajdahunyad Castle was built to show the various architectural styles of Hungary, and has Romanesque, Gothic, Renaissance and baroque parts. There is a boating lake next to the castle, which is turned into an ice skating rink in the winter.

Margaret Island

Margaret Island now serves as a recreational park in the centre of the Danube River. It is a great place to walk, swim a few laps or go for a run. During summer months, bicycles are also available for rent. Since vehicles are prohibited, the island is a fantastic escape from the city's traffic.

Central Market Hall

The spectacular Central Market Hall is a good source of Hungarian products. You can also make it a pit-stop for a quick bite of traditional Hungarian food when touring the city. Shop with the locals for meat cheese, fruits, vegetables, and pastries.

Andrássy Avenue

This elegant avenue, recognised as a World Heritage Site, is often referred to as the Champs-Elysées of Budapest. It is also called a cultural avenue, as the Opera House, the best theatres in Pest, the Liszt Ferenc Academy of Music and many museums are located on the avenue or nearby.

Váci Street and Vörösmarty Square

'Váci utca' is perhaps the most famous street in Budapest. It runs from Vörösmarty Square to the Central Market Hall and features a large number of restaurants, shops and cafés. Vörösmarty Square, located in the heart of Budapest is always busy. This is where the famous Gerbeaud Café, as well as the first station of the Millennium Underground, can be found.

The Hungarian National Assembly (the House of Parliament)

The Parliament building, a magnificent example of Neo-Gothic architecture, is just over 100 years old. It's the third largest Parliament building in the world and is also home to the Hungarian Crown Jewels. Guided tours start from the Visitor Centre, located next to the northern façade of the building (open daily from 8 am to 4/6 pm depending on the season). Visits to the House of Parliament are restricted during weeks in which the National Assembly holds its plenary sittings.

For further information go to the website of the Hungarian Tourism Agency (gotohungary.com) or visit one of Tourinform offices (e.g. Tourinform Center close to Deák Ferenc Square, address: 1052 Budapest, Sütő utca 2), where you can pick up free brochures, city maps and guidebooks.

You can also purchase motorway sticker at www.hungary-vignette.eu. Road signs conform to continental standards. The wearing of seatbelts is compulsory both in the front and back seats, no mobile phones are allowed whilst vehicles are in motion. The alcohol limit is zero. Speed limits are 50 km/hour (31 mph) in built-up areas and 90 km/hour (56 mph) elsewhere, except on dual carriageways (110 km/hour, 68 mph) and motorways (130 km/hour, 80 mph).

Getting around IN BUDAPEST

Budapest has an efficient, diverse and low-cost network of transportation, including bus, metro, trolley bus, tram, suburban railway (HÉV) and boat services. The Centre for Budapest Transport (Budapesti Közlekedési Központ, BKK) is responsible for the main transport services in Budapest (including the bus, tram, metro, suburban railway and trolleybus networks) in an integrated system. BKK Customer Service Offices can be found in or around Budapest Airport, bigger train and metro stations and the city centre.

Transportation titles

If you would like to use public transportation, keep in mind that you have to have a valid ticket or pass. Tickets are available all around the city at metro stations, tram stations or street kiosks. Once you bought a title (ticket or pass), you can use it on the whole network, regardless of the service. Exceptions are: Danube public boat services on weekends, the Buda chairlift and the Castle Hill Funicular services. Note that Budapest Passes (such as the BKK Monthly Student Pass) are only valid inside the administrative borders of Budapest Capital; you might need to purchase complementary tickets if you intend to travel to neighbouring municipalities using the bus or suburban railway services. On the other hand, Budapest Passes are valid on the lines of service providers other than BKK inside the borders of Budapest (MÁV, Volán), so you can use some train or regional bus services inside Budapest. As for single tickets, you need to validate a new ticket for each journey. If you are in a hurry, single tickets are available from the bus/tram driver for a higher price.

Ticket types and prices (July 2019):

- Single ticket: HUF 350 (HUF 450 if purchased from the driver)
- Monthly Budapest pass for students HUF 3,450 (with a valid student ID)

Note! Travelling without a valid ticket or pass can be sanctioned by fines. Ticket inspectors might appear suddenly on board. Fine is HUF 8000 on the spot; HUF 16000 if paid afterwards through postal cheque. You can only access the underground network upon presenting your ticket or pass.

Buses

Budapest has more than 200 bus routes covering most inner city and suburban areas. Some routes offer an express service, indicated with an "E" following the bus number. On the main routes, services are available even during the night.

Metro

Budapest metro has four lines:

- M1 or the Yellow Line: between Vörösmarty tér and Mexikói út
- M2 or the Red Line: between Déli pályaudvar and Örs vezér tere
- M3 or the Blue Line: between Újpest Központ and Kőbánya-Kispest
- M4 or the Green Line: between Kelenföld vasútállomás and Keleti pályaudvar

The Yellow Line is the oldest subway line in Hungary and also in mainland Europe. It was opened in 1896 for the Millennium celebrations. The newest line is the Green Line which was opened in 2014. Metro services run from 4:30 until 23:30.

Suburban railway (HÉV)

The suburban train service of Budapest (HÉV) connects Budapest with its suburban areas. A popular journey for tourists is from Batthyány tér to Szentendre. Keep in mind that if you leave the area of Budapest Capital, you need to purchase a complementary ticket to your destination in the suburbs.

Boat

Budapest has three public boat lines:

- D-11: Újpest, Árpád út - Müpa-Nemzeti Színház H
- D-12: Rómaifürdő - Müpa-Nemzeti Színház H
- D-14: Csepel-Királyerdő - Soroksár, Molnár-sziget

One single ticket for public transport boat is HUF 750, but you can travel with your monthly Budapest pass free of charge on weekdays.

Taxi

You can always hail a cab on the street, but it is cheaper to book one over the phone, online or with apps. Tourists should avoid hailing unmarked taxi cars. Even if they have a taxi sign on the roof and are seen standing at taxi ranks, do not get in the car unless they have a company name on the outside of the car. From September 2013 every taxi is uniformly yellow in Budapest.

Biking in Budapest – Bicycle-Sharing Network of MOL BUBI

The MOL Bubi bike-sharing scheme is a bicycle-sharing network in Budapest. The apple-green bikes can be hired from and returned to any docking station found at major transport hubs in the city centre. So far 1,150 bikes can be hired from 99 docking stations in the centre of Budapest.

Car-sharing service in Budapest - GreenGo Car Europe

A new car-sharing service, GreenGo Car is available from November 2016 in Budapest. GreenGo Car's aim is to provide a new, convenient, fast and environment friendly way of transport. Electric cars are available in many points of the city, you just have to download an app and register for the service.

More information on the fees and the usage of the system: www.greengo.hu.

Night buses

The night transport service in Budapest is one of the best in Europe. You will find that you can get anywhere in the city by night buses. Night buses usually start at midnight and run until 4:00 a.m. every night. The numbering of night buses starts with the number 9.

Note that some night buses on very busy lines run quite often (every 10th or 15th minute), but lines running to the suburbs run only once or twice an hour.

For more information on timetables, check the website of BKK (www.bkk.hu).

SAFETY

Hungary is generally a safe country, and people in Hungary are hospitable. Violent crime is relatively rare in Budapest, but pickpockets may be active on public transport vehicles, in crowded shops, food markets and popular tourist places.

A few tips to consider:

- Wallets should not be kept in the back pockets of your pants or in the outside pockets of your bag.
- Keep your money, documents, mobile phone safe and secure; in an inside pocket.
- Passports and travel documents should be kept in a safe place.
- Do not show your cash, particularly large bills, unnecessarily in public places.

Banking in HUNGARY

If you study at ELTE with a Hungarian governmental scholarship (e.g., Stipendium Hungaricum), you are required to open a Hungarian bank account where your scholarship will be transferred.

The bank is free to choose if they accept your application. That is a private business decision for the bank. Before opening a bank account, the bank needs to get to know its potential clients. This may, require more due diligence in assessing bank account requests from non-residents. Some banks may therefore, have a policy not to accept non-resident customers.

To open a bank account, you must present your passport and another identification document (such as driver's license, tax card, etc.). If you are a non-EEA student, it is usually necessary to have a valid residence permit and address card in order to open a bank account, although some banks allow foreigners to open an account with just the presentation of a passport.

In Hungary, banks are typically open on weekdays from 8:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Banks are not open on Saturdays except some branches in shopping centres.

If you need help in opening a bank account, you can ask your mentor to assist you.

Automatic teller machines (ATMs)

ATMs can be found anywhere in Hungary and Budapest. Hungarian banks charge a commission for using ATMs. Note that higher services charges might apply for using an ATM that is not operated by the bank that issued your bank card.

You don't have to worry about exchanging Hungarian Forint before your arrival and carrying cash. ATM machines are widely available in major cities, and they accept Visa and MasterCard.

Paying taxes in Hungary

If you study at ELTE with a Hungarian governmental scholarship (e.g., Stipendium Hungaricum), you are required to apply for a Tax Card after your arrival in Hungary. You need to request a Tax Card in person at the National Tax and Customs Administration (Nemzeti Adó- és Vámhivatal). First application for a Tax Card is free of charge. You are required to take with you your passport.

Postal and telephone services

Magyar Posta (Hungarian Post) is the postal administration of Hungary. Besides normal mail delivery, Magyar Posta also offers logistics, banking, and marketing services.

Typically, you can post a letter in the post office, or you can just throw it with valid stamps into a postbox on the street. You can easily find post offices in Budapest and the main post offices are usually open until 8:00 p.m. As for post offices, always check it on the postbox when they empty the box.

The country code for Hungary is 36. Calls to international destinations are in the format 00 + country code + number. On mobile phones, + can be used instead of 00.

Mobile phone use in Hungary is very widespread. There are three main service providers in Hungary: T-mobile, Tele-nor, and Vodafone. There is no major difference in the mobile phone tariffs but minute fees within the network are typically cheaper so you might get the same provider that your friends use. You can also decide if you pre-pay for the phone usage or purchase a monthly payment.

At the beginning of each semester, ESN ELTE and the SH mentor network helps new international students with getting a Hungarian SIM card fast after their arrival.

Shopping

There are plenty of chances to do shopping in Budapest. Most stores are open from Monday till Saturday between 8:00-19:00 and on Sunday between 10:00-18:00. Shopping centres have longer opening hours from Monday till Sunday between 10:00-20:00. On public holidays all shops are closed.

You can find the following supermarket chains in Hungary: Spar, Tesco, Lidl, Aldi, CBA, Coop.

Food markets (like Central Market Hall) are the best places if you want to buy some fresh fruit or vegetables at a good price. They are open from Monday till Saturday between 6:00-18:00. Many locals do their shopping there.

One of the main and most famous shopping areas in Budapest is Váci street. It is a pedestrian street, which runs from Vámház körút (Central Market Hall) to the Vörösmarty square featuring a large number of fashionable shops, restaurants and cafés. András street can offer another great shopping experience, if you have a larger budget. It is a place of famous designer shops (like Gucci, Armani, Louis Vuitton, Dolce & Gabbana).

If you want some unique gift, there are numerous art shops in the city center. Budapest has an expanding design community. Király Street, also known as Budapest's Design Street, is filled with interior design and furniture stores, funky boutiques and modern art galleries.

Pubs

There are plenty of great pubs and party places where you can spend your evenings together with both Hungarian and international students. You can find some interesting spots if you would like to dance all night. Here are some places you should visit during your stay:

Szimpla Kert

Szimpla Kert is one of the most popular meeting points among Hungarians and international students alike. It is a mixture of a garden, a pub and a cinema. There is no significant sign or entrance – it looks like a regular door from the street, so watch out! Sometimes they have jazz and folk concerts in the basement. Szimpla Kert is one of the city's most beloved 'ruin pubs'.

- Address: 1075 Budapest, Kazinczy utca 14.
- Web: www.szimpla.hu/

Morrison's 2

Mixed crowd of locals and foreigners, a good atmosphere. It plays lots of different music and styles, mostly a decent mix of dance and RnB music. You can drink for a good price on certain days or have all you can drink for reasonable money.

- Address: 1055 Budapest, Szent István krt. 11
- Web: www.morrisons2.hu/

Fogasház

Fogasház is great for a club night with a massive dance floor downstairs and other rooms upstairs. The garden, which also has a bar and serves food which is quite good. Very similar to Szimpla slightly smaller but great atmosphere. Fogasház offers cheap drinks and an amazing vibe. The staff is friendly, and the music is usually very good. If you want to meet with friends and chat, go earlier, if you're up for dancing, get there around midnight, or else you'll be the only one on the dance floor!

A38

Moored on the Buda side just to the south of Petőfi Bridge, the A38 is a decommissioned Ukrainian stone hauler ship from 1968 that has been recycled as a major floating bar and live-music venue. It can be accessed from the bank of the Danube or directly by BKK ships.
